In Memory Of:

Ana M. Raucoppo

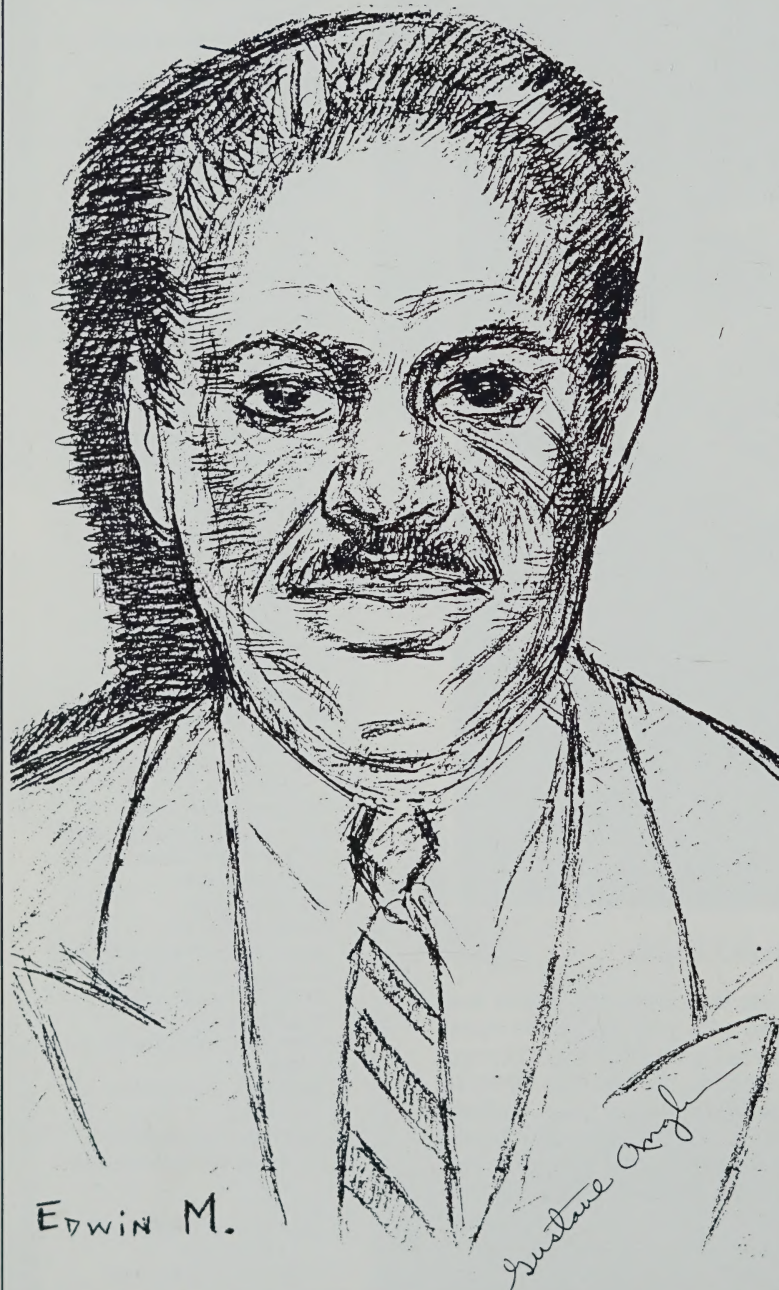

We, the class of 1998, dedicate this yearbook to you Ana and all the memories associated with you. You were more than a classmate you were a friend who will always occupy a special place deep within our hearts. To say that we miss you would be an understatement because your sudden departure was a profound and traumatic loss to the world and us. The members of the class of 1998 feel that you are still a part of us and will participate in the conclusion of a year that will forever be etched in our minds. We dedicate this poem to you to remind all of us of the beauty and importance of the people, places, and things we seem to take for granted, until they are gone - forever.

Thank you for the spirit that lives on. May you rest in peace. Love 1998.

Solace
By Clarissa Scott Delaney

My window opens out into the trees
And in that small space
Of branches and the sky
I see the seasons pass
Behold the tender green
Give way to darker heavier leaves.
The glory of the autumn comes
When stepped in mellow sunlight
The fragile, golden leaves
Against a clear blue sky Linger in the magic of the afternoon
And then reluctantly break off
And filter down to pave
A street with gold.
Then bare, gray branches Lift themselves against the Cold December sky
Sometimes weaving a web Across the rose and the dusk of late sunset Sometimes against a frail
new moon
And one bright star riding
A sky of that dark, living blue Which comes before the heaviness
Of night descends, or the stars Have powdered the heavens.
Winds beat against the trees;
The cold, but gentle rain of spring
Touches them lightly
The summer torrents strive
To lash them into a fury
And seek them-
But they stand.
My life is fevered
And a restlessness at times
An agony- again a vague
And baffling discontent Possesses me.
I am thankful for my bit of sky
And trees, and for the shifting Pageant of the seasons.
Such beauty lays upon the heart
A quiet.
Such eternal change and permanence Take meaning from all turmoil
And leave serenity
Which knows no pain.

Headmaster's Address

I would like to take this final opportunity to congratulate you on the occasion of your graduation from the John D. O'Bryant School of Mathematics and Science.

For the past four years I have been impressed with your considerable achievements. You have grown more poised and confident during these years and you have developed into mature and committed young men and women.

I have found you to be hard-working, determined and dedicated. I am pleased that you remained steadfast in achieving many of the goals that you set for yourselves. I can assure you that academic excellence achieved as a result of perseverance and hard work will help you to be successful in any future endeavors. I encourage you to fully develop your God given abilities even more in the years ahead in order to reach your full potential.

The education that you received at the O'Bryant School has been an excellent one. The staff and I have done our best to prepare you for a technology driven 21st century. You must continue to maintain an interest in education, strive for excellence and accomplish all of the goals that you have set for yourselves.

In September, after a summer of rest and relaxation, you will be entering a new phase of your life, entering an adult world with many decisions to be made about the directions that your lives will follow. Whether you choose to enter college or postpone your education for the world of work, I am confident that if you continue to persevere, you will be a success in all of your future endeavors.

Continue to make all of us at the O'Bryant proud of your accomplishments and more than that, continue to be the fine young men and women that you have become.

Best wishes in all the years ahead. May they be happy and fulfilling ones for all of you.

Thoughts for the Graduating Class

Edward D. Joyce (68)

Assistant Headmaster

Thirty years ago this spring I graduated from our high school. My family had just purchased our first color TV; gasoline cost $0.19 a gallon; and Mr. Weiner was everybody's favorite history teacher.

Now it's your turn. You are joining the thousands of graduates who have gone before you serving their family, community, and country with pride and distinction. You have been prepared to accept and to meet the intellectual challenges and personal commitments that are required of the leaders in our society. You represent the best that our future has to offer and it has been a great privilege to have spent the last two years with you.

As you join our alumni, I have three requests to ask of you: First, always be proud of yourself and your school. Second, seek out life's challenges and opportunities knowing that you are able to meet and achieve them. Third and most importantly, no matter where you go or what you do, each day, in some small or large way, do something that makes the world a better place for someone who has not had the good fortune to graduate from our high school.

Good luck, have fun, and may God shine his blessings on each of you.

To the class of 1998,

Often I wish that we were not graduating. It's rather sad that maybe we won't see each other again. Even if we didn't like every aspect of our school or the people in it, in the end we're going to miss them: the annoying intercom announcements that we can never hear, O' yes! Mr. Anglin calling himself to the office, no toilet paper in the bathrooms—don't forget the stalls, and last but not least, trying to sneak back into the school after going to JOE'S to get a steak & cheese.

The last two years have been the hardest and the best years of my life. I have grown and experienced things I would have only imagined in my dreams. Who would have known back when we were freshmen that we were going to stand up for what we believed in by helping one of our guidance counselors or changing this school for the better by bringing some spirit through those doors or that we would lose a dear friend? I hope when you look back, all these different emotions won't change. I hope you remember that we had some bright, determined people in our class. That is what made our class different - - - the fact that we stood up no matter what kind of trouble we may have gotten into, to do the right thing.

Sometimes in life, things don't go as you want them to. That doesn't mean you have to forget about them and move on. You have to take control and fix them. Things change, it's not all about tradition. We should take a look back at the past four or six years and see what we have accomplished, how this school has changed because of us, and what we stood for, not what others thought we stood for.

Words on a sheet of paper will not convey what the past four or six years have meant to us, and the stories we'll leave behind. I wish everyone the best of luck, and hope that all your goals will be realized. But life ahead is not going to be easy. When times get hard and you think that your life is going to fall apart, take a deep breath and remember your past and where you've come from. You have graduated from the John D. O'Bryant School of Mathematics and Science and most importantly from the class of 1998.

With Love,
Vicky Kalaitzidis

As captains of the Step Squad, we are very proud of the team's sportsmanship as well as their cooperation. Considering that this was our first year as a team, we had a very good year. Although, the majority of our team were younger students, they showed responsibility, which resulted in excellent overall performance. The team participated in many performances which involved a variety of complicated routines that were put forth by the captains, as well as the co-captains, Renee Odoms & Ebonee Huggins. We thank all the participants, and the people who supported us.

CHEERLEADING

Edwin Hearn 11/98

The O'Bryant Cheerleading season started off on the wrong foot. Because of late shipment of uniforms and because of problems within the cheerleading squad, we missed four games of the football season.

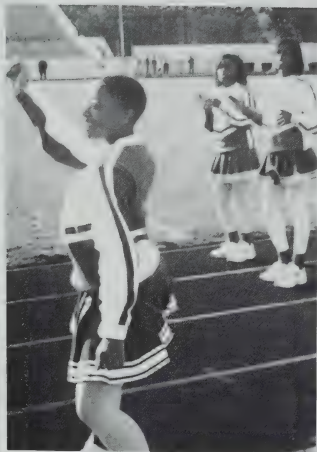

Even though some of our new cheerleaders were nervous and our performance still needed work, we had fun cheering at our first game. The support from spectators made it easier for us to cheer with enthusiasm.

Our cheerleading season wasn't that great this year. We didn't participate in the Battle Of The Cheerleaders, but we made the best of what we had.

FOOTBALL

The Tigers finished a winning season with a record 5-4. An eleventh hour loss to Madison Park High School halted our strong drive to the Super Bowl and a tie for the league championship. In spite of this loss, throughout the season, the team's efforts have been commendable. The talents of each player combined for a superb season.

It was an outstanding year for our senior co-captains, Eric Lindsey and Randy Perry. Eric averaged 11.3 yards per carry (34 for 608 yds) and Randy averaged 6.8 yards per carry (67 for 457 ys).

Chosen from many gifted athletes, our team MVP awards went to Eric Lindsey (MVP Back) and two-way senior tackle, Len Whitted (MVP Lineman).

We will miss the talented pool of seniors next year: Alex Sanders, two-way end; Will Watkins, end-DB; Brando Soto, guard-LB; and Charles Bazile, Jr., center-T.

I look forward to next season and the strong promise of the returning underclassmen. In '98, the Tigers will be Oggrrrreat!

SOCCER

The 1997-1998 girls soccer team has lived up to its high expectations. We are regarded as one of the best teams in the city. Our success can be attributed to the excellent forwards, strong defense, and a both patient and supportive coach. This winning combination has taken us to the top of our game. Our defense was so solid that we held our opponents scoreless until the fifth game. The team is full of young players who really know how to play well. Without a doubt they will continue to represent O'Bryant with a respectful, gracious, and winning spirit, just as this year's team did.

BASKETBALL

At the beginning of the season we started off with a new coach, Coach Fisher, and a whole different team. Last year we went all the way to the city championships and lost only by 10 points to the 3 peat champions, Burke High School. The captains of the 97/98 girl's basketball team were Shanika Ewing who has been on the team for six years consecutively, and Lornece Hawkins who has played on the team since her freshman year. This year we adapted to all the changes of the pre-season. With a bit of a struggle, we soon found ourselves playing as a team with a mission to accomplish. However, injuries plagued the team with the loss of one of our key players, Nneka U. We played to the best of our abilities seeking victory. At the end of the season, we finished with six wins and six losses. When it was all over, we found ourselves saddened at the results because we knew in our hearts that we could and should have done better. I want to wish the upcoming girls basketball team, Good Luck and Play Hard.

The Lady Tigers of "98"

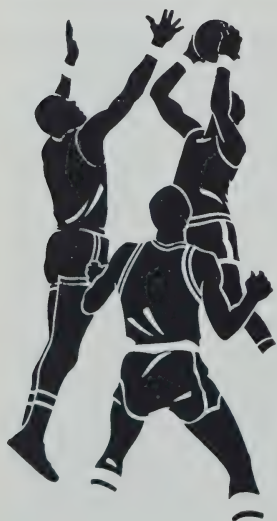

BASKETBALL

The basketball season did not go exactly as expected. We lost 17 out of 18 games. As a team, we would execute greatly in the first half of play. However, the team had very little depth, therefore, the end of the game exhausted those who played. The leading scores were Autwan Key, Lester Carter, and Henry Astwood. Although we had a losing season we learned a lot about our teammates and how to play as a team.

HOCKEY

This year's 8-3 record was accomplished with the standout performance in goals from Jimmy Pham and constant ice duty on defense from Tom McLean and Joe Narduzzi. An early bright prospect, Mike Tracey was injured early in the year, which put more playing time on our younger teammates. Sophomore Michelle Williamson and 7th grader Matt MacDonald led our offensive. Both players led the league in scoring. Tin Ly and Sammy Low were the working line mates that set up Michelle and Matt. Other players who improved were Amber P. Knight (our team manager and back up goalie), Frank Colantino, Tom Conlon, Wing Wong, and Matt Nguyen.

SWIMMING

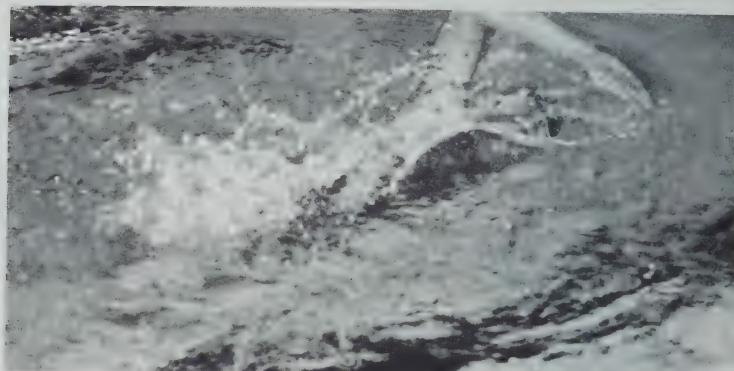

Within the last four years, the O'Bryant Swim Team has grown from 5 members to 30. Both record-breaking swimmers and beginner swimmers joined the team. With the number of students on the team and the amount of effort we put in, we had a 10-2 season and placed second in the City Championships.

TRACK & FIELD

TIGERS

Outdoor Track was a season of development that took your running to the next level, whether you were a boy or a girl. Both the boys and the girls track teams saw a dramatic decrease in members, but continued to work one-hundred and ten percent, resulting in another city championship win for the girls, and a close second place for the boys.

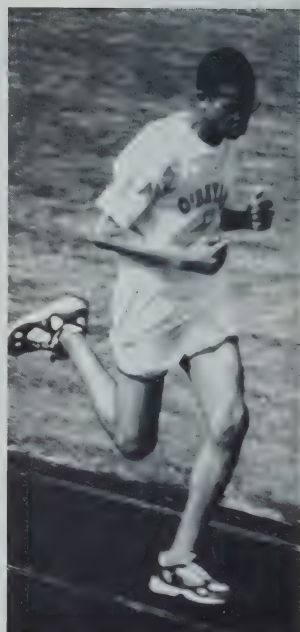

Track is a sport where hard work brings the gold, and we will continue to do so as long as O'Bryant has a track program.

TRACK & FIELD

Despite difficulties and hardships, both the girls and boys indoor track teams had great success. The seniors picked up the slack and helped out in many ways. We started becoming the big family we were at the end of the '96-97" season. As a team, athletes faced disagreements, injuries, and death. Even against these odds the track team excelled to new heights. The boys won their third consecutive City Championship. The girls won their fourth consecutive City Championship and their second Class C Championship. Among the many talented athletes on our team, Chenelle Bruce and William Welch truly shone this season. Chenelle placed 4th and William placed 6th in the All-State Meet. It is expected that the younger runners will step up next year and will hopefully continue our team's winning tradition.

SOFTBALL

This year's softball team was very diligent in their efforts to win. It was a short but sweet season for these fine athletes. Despite the loss of players and injuries, these girls managed to turn out a respectable season with a 5-5 status.

BASEBALL

O'Bryant Baseball was led by team captains Brando Soto and Tom McLean. We had a good season compared to those in recent years, winning four and losing only five games this season. The future looks better with MVP Eliver and others. Orlando and Ariel will lead the team next year. If they play as a team and keep practicing, maybe we'll get a winning record.

"It is not the critic who counts, not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or where the doer of deeds could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at best, knows in the end the triumph of high achievement; and who, at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat."

- Theodore Roosevelt

I Am A Winner

By William Arthur Bryant

I am a winner.

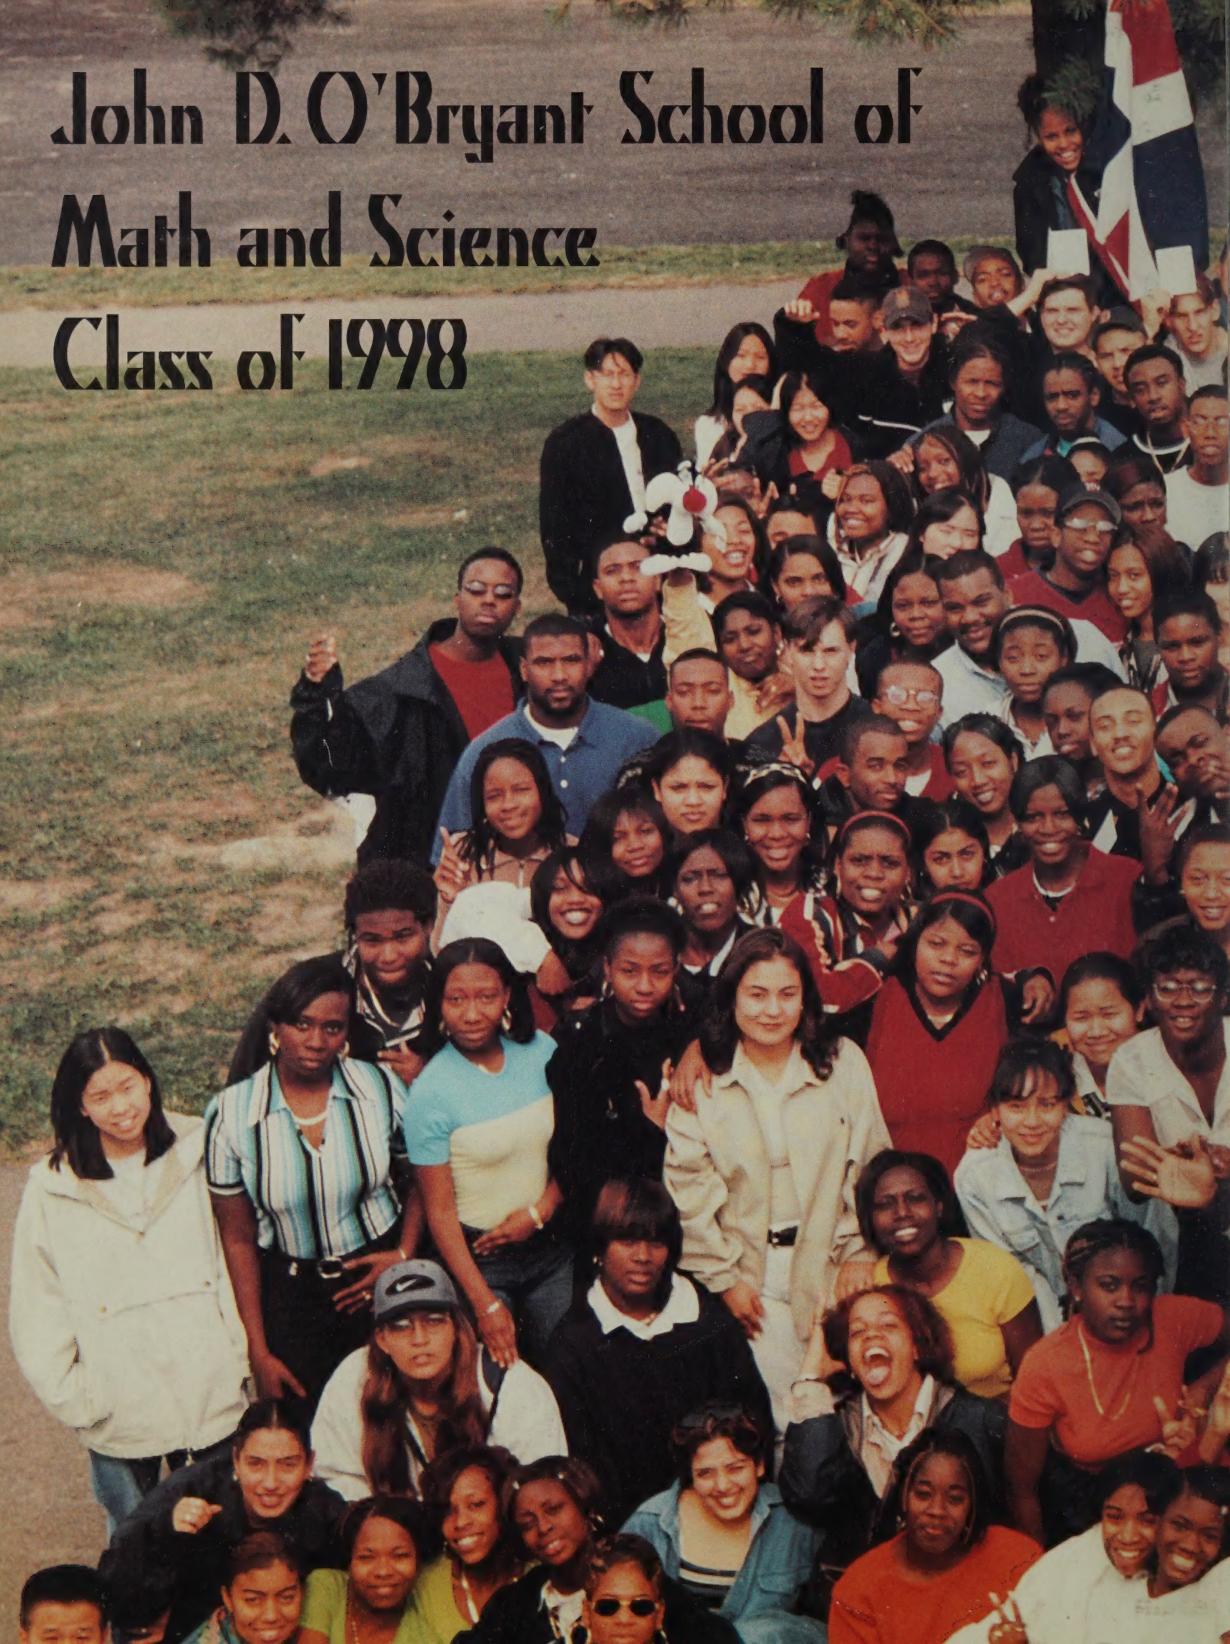

because I think like a winner, prepare like a winner and perform like a winner because I set high but attainable goals, work towards those goals with determination and persistence and never stop until I reach them because I am strong enough to say "No" to those things that can make me less than my best and say "Yes" to the challenges and opportunities that can make me grow and improve my life.
 because total commitment is my constant companion and personal integrity is my lifetime mentor because I have well earned confidence in myself, a high regard for my teammates, a healthy respect for those in authority over me because I am learning to avoid the tempting shortcuts that could lead to disappointments and unhealthy habits that could result in defeat because I persevere in the midst of obstacles and fight in the face of defeat because I have learned to accept criticism, not a threat but as an opportunity to examine my attitude and to improve my skills because I am made in the image and likeness of my creator who gave me a burning desire and a measure of strong faith to attempt the difficult and to overcome the seemingly impossible because of my enthusiasm for life, my enjoyment for the present, and my trust in the future.

Congratulations Class of 1998 for your accomplishments and spirit! Remember those who have helped you along your journey and those who walked many paths with you. May you have a successful and happy life.

Much Love Always!
